

Berdoo Blasts 13-12

Smith, Kasten Zip To Tartar Scores

Whether you blame it on first half blues, butterflies or bobbles, it was enough to cost the Torrance High varsity its second game of the season Friday night as the San Bernardino Cardinals rolled out a 13-12 victory at the Tartar Bowl.

The maroon-clad locals were helpless throughout the first half of play and let the visitors boom up 102 yards on the ground and 60 in the air compared to a meager 23 yards gain for the Tartars.

Pave Way

Paving the way for the first score moments after the evening play started, the Berdoo boys powered from their own 33 to a tally before the clock showed four minutes had ticked off in the game.

Power plays used by the Cardinals lacerated the front wall of the Tartar defense.

The visitors were marching towards the home goal posts as the half-gun sounded, finally halting on the 16-yard line fourth down and two-to-go.

Just when things started to look gloomy as the second period opened, San Berdoo's bustling right half, Ed Lopez, dropped the seed as he tore through the guard hole, and the locals recovered.

SB Intercepts

Jim Farrar carried the ball off left end for a two-yard gain then next down, missed a throw to Jim Murphy in the flat and hit Cardinal end Tom Bass, who swished to the 11.

Four plays later, Ed Yarb cracked off of table for the 13th point. His try for pat was blocked.

Now, after a long, but not so patient, wait, it was the locals' chance.

Talking over after the kickoff, Farrar flipped one to Larry Ray, who gathered it and zipped 20 yards to the midfield line. Three pass tries in a row by Farrar were failures, and the Tartars were forced to kick.

After a few more ball changes, the Tartars advanced to the 34 where Farrar chucked a short one to end Larry Goff, who took a step or two, and when things got too hot, shoved the ball back to Don Kasten, who side-stepped his way down the right side line to a TD. Try for point failed.

Score First Point

Having now scored their first counter of the season, the locals went to work to second their early efforts, and laid the groundwork for the near-clincher.

After taking a flying tackle at SB's Walt Smith and missing — Torrance's own Jamie Brown made up for his blunder by pouncing on a fumble on the locals 85-yard marker.

Beryl Jones pushed up for 4 yards, Farrar tried a quartet of poor passes, and then hit Burt Smith steaming down that lucky right side of the field for a 36-yard payoff pass.

Pass after pass was tried by the Tartars as the clock raced off the minutes, and even a recovered ball after a fumble on the SB 31 went to no avail.

The Tartars were playing Friday night Bay-less—without the services of tailback Harry Bayless—and it showed. But even if Harry had been in waiting; off yardage, the score might have been the same.

Poor tackling by the entire crew, and slow follow-up work by the line-backers was costly in several instances. Also, evidence that backfield defensive men failed to follow the man with the ball was noticeable throughout the fray.

Excelsior Rips Through Locals In Bee Practice

King-sized Bees with a potent sting pounded Coach Don Porter's Tartarababes all over the field in a practice scrimmage at Excelsior High School Friday afternoon.

Though no official score was kept, the hosts outplayed the locals on all counts. Leads in the 9th and 10th grades, regardless of age or size, are allowed to perform on the Excelsior Bee squads in that conference, it was pointed out.

FIVE FOR FOUR . . . These five Bee stalwarts are seeking the starting call on the Torrance Tartarababes squad this season—and Coach Don Porter is faced with the problem of naming which one is to sit it out. Almost assured of posts are Katsuda Ichi, quarterback, at left; Jerry Burns,

MIXED EMOTIONS . . . Little trouble in finding which of these lads has the ball, as Torrance end Larry Roy smiles with satisfaction as he gathered in an offering from QB Jim Farrar to set up the way for the first Tartar score Friday night. San Bernardino's Clarence Goodwin shows slight dismay over his failure to bat down the seed. SB won, 13-12.
